MAD RACE RIOTSALL NEGRO POPULATION ROUND-ED UP AND SPENT NIGHT
UNDER GUARDHOMES OF 8,000 BLACKS AND 5,000
WHITES ARE BURNED
TO GROUND

(United Press)

Tulsa, Okla., June 2—Race hatred which flared up for twenty-four hours in the oil metropolis of the southwest costing nearly one hundred lives and over eleven million dollars property damage had burned itself out today.

Whites who fought furious battles with practically the entire black male population, centered their efforts to finding shelter for the ten thousand negroes whose homes were destroyed when the torch was applied.

Although rumors spread through congregating in the outskirts to make the city through the night of negroes a mad drive to liberate prisoners, investigation by the state troops proved the reports unfounded.

Negroes who fled the city when the riot began Tuesday night drifted back into town today with pitiful stories of how they stayed hidden in the woods northeast of the city without food or water for nearly two days. Farmers rounded up many fleeing negroes and brought them into the detention camp.

Practically the entire negro population spent the night under guard. Men, women and children were herded together in public buildings. Four thousand blacks spent the night at the fair grounds.

Governor J. B. Robertson today ordered a grand jury investigation of the race riot. Attorney General Prince Freeling will have charge of the investigation to fix the responsibility for the loss of nearly one hundred lives and destruction of property of 8,000 blacks and 5,000 whites.

The success of military law in ending the outbreak was marked. Within a very short time military law was applied and the situation was under control.

Throughout the night dangerous looking machine guns were mounted in the empty streets. The streets were ordered cleared of civilians at 9 P. M.

A campaign to raise money for relief for the negroes was under way. Several thousand dollars has already been subscribed.

Dick Rowland, the negro who is alleged to have attacked Sarah Paige, which led to the rumors of an attempted lynching, was smuggled from the city soon after the riot started. Negroes made a drive on the jail to release Rowland when reports that the whites were gathering to lynch him spread through the black belt.

Sarah could not be found. Negroes, however, who said they saw her shortly after the attack said they saw bruises on her arms and on other parts of her body.

The fire which destroyed the black belt played no favoritism and also took the homes of the whites in its path. In addition to eight thousand negroes made homeless by the blaze approximately five thousand whites lost everything they owned.

The two principals in the start of the riot were in hiding today.

McAdoo Thinks

Railroad Rates
Should be Reduced

(By United Press)

New York, June 2—Railroad rates should be reduced at once in view of the recent wage cut, according to Wm. G. McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury and director general of railroads.

"The present high freight rates and passenger rates are based in a large measure upon increased wages of railroad employees established by the railroad labor board in the summer of 1920," McAdoo said, in an interview today.

"High rates are hurting the public and imposing heavy burdens on the general public, farmers, cattle men, producers and the consumer."

SOO LINE WILL EMPLOY 3,000
MORE MEN SOONSAID VICE-PRESIDENT HUNTING-TON AS A RESULT OF DROP
IN WAGES

Minneapolis, June 2—From 3,000 to 4,000 men will be called back to work July 1 by the Soo railroad. G. R. Huntington, vice-president of the road, announced. The normal force of about 700 men at the Soo locomotive shops in Northeast Minneapolis will be nearly wholly re-employed, he added. At present four pits employing 125 men are in operation.

The move by the Soo line was directly affected by the decision of the railway labor board announced last night reducing wages of all rail employees an average of 12 per cent, Mr. Huntington said. "We had intended to put a number back to work but this wage change has caused us to set the date ahead at least a month and to increase the number re-employed by a large figure."

The announcement comes as the first big labor increase in the north-west for many months, and if business conditions continue to readjust themselves favorably as at present, it may be followed by similar announcements from other roads, officials said.

Judge Declines to Allow Wife Trading

(By United Press)

Anderson, Ind., June 2—"Love thy neighbor as thyself but stay away from his wife."

Judge Wm. A. Kittinger today went back to that revised edition of basic laws in reaching a decision in the Anderson wife trading divorce case.

The court told the United Press the petition for divorce filed by Glee Muncy against her husband Bill, and that of Babe Huffman against her husband Gorman, would not be granted by him. Gorman and Bill want to trade wives.

"It is not a matter of looking up Blackstone to decide this case," Judge Kittinger told the United Press.

"All we need to do is go back to the fundamental basic law—the ten commandments."

"Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's wife," is the only law I need refer to in refusing the divorce."

The judge recounted how the four had come before him and asked that they be allowed to swap wives and husbands.

"I told them that I could not help them unless they obtained a divorce and instructed them to see attorneys," he said. "That is the only thing I can do."

"However, when the case comes before me for decision I cannot give them a divorce knowing the circumstances as I do. It would be a misuse of the judicial power."

POLES AND FRENCH
CLASH IN SILESIAMANY LIVES HAVE BEEN LOST—POLISH INSURGENTS ARE HUNGRY AND DESTITUTE

(By United Press)

Oppeln, Upper Silesia, June 2—Starving Polish insurgents have turned on friendly French soldiers and many lives have been lost in brief skirmishes, according to reports here today.

The most serious break occurred at Kattowitz where a French supply train was rushed by a mob of hungry Poles. Drivers of lorries were brushed from their seats while the attackers looted the supplies.

French guards opened fire. The rioters replied instantly. Only after several lives had been lost did the looters withdraw. Other encounters were reported here, indicating the plight of the Poles in growing impatience with the French. Meanwhile Germans have continued to harass the French soldiers. From the first Germany has charged that France is trying to help Poland obtain a major portion of Silesia. At Butcher this feeling flared into active fighting.

More than one thousand Germans, angered at the supposed favoritism for the Poles, made a rush for the French garrison. Within a few minutes they had surrounded the headquarters then opened a brisk revolver fire which broke windows but did little other damage.

A number of French tanks were stationed in the barracks yards and the Germans having captured the sentries attempted to use the machines. The tank crews however repelled the attack with revolvers threatening to use the machine guns. The Germans retreated to adjacent houses whence they continued to direct revolver fire on the garrison. The tanks broke up the attack with machine guns. The Germans left a number of dead.

On Trial For Murder,
Says He Is Innocent

(By United Press)

Knox, Ind., June 2—Cecil Burkett, 11, talked to "Ma" Burkett about the old swimming hole today and paid no attention to the arguments of his attorneys.

The jury will decide whether Cecil murdered Benny Savin, his 7 year old playmate. The closing arguments were begun at noon. Cecil is sure he will be freed.

"I'll bet you all these I'll be out in the old swimming hole with the bunch tonight," he said to his nine year old brother and one of the seven children who surrounded "Ma" Burkett at the trial. "All these" were marbles he had in his pocket.

"Ma" despite the comfort of her son, was down hearted.

"Gee, it ain't nothing, ma," said Cecil. "I didn't kill Benny and the jury knows it. I wish that they would hurry up though, and let me go home."

Even the prosecuting attorney believed that an acquittal will come within a few minutes after the jury goes out.

Harding's Self-Styled Cousin
Is On Trial For Fraud

(By United Press)

Chicago, June 2—Everett Harding, self-styled cousin of President Harding, did not want a jury when he came to trial before Judge Landis today. Everett is charged with passing himself off as the assistant secretary of President Harding and thereby defrauding the Pennsylvania railroad out of the price of a special train to the inauguration.

Everett's first plea was "not guilty." He said he wanted the judge to be the jury.

Landis ruled that the defendant would have to change his plea to "guilty" before the jury could be dispensed with.

Joseph Schaulna, photographer, was the first witness. He said he accompanied the party to the inauguration.

"Excuse me, I am going in and get his excellency the president to swear me in as assistant secretary," Schaulna testified Everett told some of his guests at the inauguration.

Schaulna testified he had taken pictures of Everett and his sister, Pearl, "the baby of the White House."

"I want them in a hurry to send to cousin Warren," Schaulna reported Everett as saying.

RAIL WORKERS
FEEL WAGE CUT
UNFAIR JUST NOWBUT WILL RELUCTANTLY ACCEPT
AS THEY FEEL THE PUBLIC
DEMANDS IT

(By United Press)

Chicago, June 2—Rail workers feel that the twelve and one-half per cent cut ordered by the United States labor board is unjust at this time but will accept it reluctantly.

Many of the rank and file who were found in Chicago by the terminal, expressed their opinion today that they have not noticed a twelve per cent cut in their grocery bills. They said the cut in necessities was hardly noticeable.

Workers on railroads are up against these problems they say, and realize them fully.

A strike would not have public approval. The general public is having a hard enough time making ends meet during the industrial depression, and it would refuse to back any movement that would make hard times worse.

In event of a strike of railroad men there are thousands of jobless men to take their places."

Railroads Now In Position to Reduce Rates

(By United Press)

Washington, June 2—The nation's railroads now are in a position to slash freight rates and institute a policy of bargain counter bidding for increased business, it was said here today.

Rates now are 70 per cent above pre-war level.

The matter of rate reduction is wholly up to the roads, it was pointed out at the interstate commerce commission.

NEWCOMERS WANT TO KNOW

Questions Intending Residents Will Ask Before They Decide on Locating in Any Town.

Questions that people ask about your town before they decide to make it their town:

Attractiveness: Shall I like the town—its "atmosphere"? Does it have the beauty of shaded streets and other beautiful features? Is it a quiet, roomy, airy, well-lighted town? Does it have attractive public buildings and homes? Is it well paved? Is it clean in every sense?

Healthfulness: Will my family and I have a reasonable chance to keep well in that town? How about its water supply? Its sanitary system?
 Its methods of milk inspection? Its health department? Its hospitals?
 Is it without any congested district?

Education: Can I educate my family and myself in that town? How about its public schools—present and future? Its institutions of higher education or of business training? Its libraries? Its lecture and concert courses? Its newspapers? Its postal facilities?

People: Shall I like the people of the town? Are they "home folks", without false exclusiveness? Are they neighborly and friendly? Is the town free from factionalism?

Recreation: Can I have a good time in that town—I and my family? How about the theaters, museums, gymnasiums, parks, etc.? Are inviting opportunities for pleasure drives afforded by well paved streets?—L. N. Flint, of Kansas.

Railroads to Plant Trees.

A tree planting campaign will be started all along the Rock Island lines, the American Forestry association announces. The plans as worked out include tree planting suggestions and beautification plans for the stations and the homes of the employees of that railroad. The Rock Island Magazine, the association says, will announce the outline of the work in the next issue of that publication which goes to all its workers. "This is one of the most constructive programs yet presented," said Charles Lathrop Pack, president of the American Forestry association. "The plans hook up with an educational campaign for studying trees now being introduced in the schools through our national referendum for the choice of a tree most typical of America. The association will send free tree-planting instructions to any who ask."

 men are engines; they pull."

Men who are leaders, men who do the pulling of life are usually linked up with a strong, dependable bank. In Brainerd, many of these men have their accounts at the First National Bank.
 They find this a congenial bank. We are confident that you will, too.

House Built of Compressed Straw.

A house with walls made of compressed straw was erected in the Fauborg de la Chaussee at Montargis, France. The framework of the building and the sides are filled with blocks of tightly compressed straw, which are claimed to be as hard as concrete and just as unflammable.
 Owing to the tightness of the materials only small foundations are needed and a house of this kind can be built in a month.

Wanted the "Prescription."

One day when Lawrence was eating seemed to make a particular hit with him. After expressing the desire that his mother might learn how to make this kind of soup, he said: "Mrs. H.

Another Victory for Machinery.

From Lyons, France, comes the report that a machine has been developed for making raised embroidery in gold and silver. It is stated that the stitch is a copy of an ancient form of embroidery and gives an impression of handwork, and is also the first machine that has been successful in using the metallic thread. It is stated that the machine is the result of seven years of study, and that the results are very satisfactory.—Scientific American.

Permanent Color Improvement.

"Your face is no longer flushed with drink." "No," replied Uncle Bill Bottletop. "When they proclaimed prohibition I turned pale and never got over it."

The Paramount Five.

I presume the five most important topics of everyday conversation in this country are (1) politics, (2) religion, (3) sports, (4) the movies and (5) money, but I should say that the five things that a man most frequently thinks about are (1) his family, (2) his business or his job, (3) his health, (4) his recreation and (5) his investments.—"A Business Man" in Collier's.

THE DECORATIVE LAMP SHADE

Unusual Method of Trimming by Use of Velvet Ribbon Instead of Conventional Gilt Braid.

The lamp shade illustrated shows a rather unusual method of trimming by the use of velvet ribbon instead of the conventional gilt braid. The result is effective and gives a striking appearance to any lamp shade.

To make the shade illustrated purchase a wire frame of the size desired and the shape shown in the sketch. Decide on the color of the silk which is to cover the frame, and get a piece of binding ribbon the same shade. Wrap all the wires on the frame with the binding ribbon. Measure the wire frame to find the amount of silk which will be required to cover it. The silk is sewed smooth around the lower wire of the frame and is plaited in to fit the top wire. Buy enough silk to line the shade. The lining may be the same as the outside covering or a contrasting color may be used with good effect. Thin India silk is best for making lamp shades.

To cover the frame sew the silk to the lower edge, fitting it smoothly over the wire with no fullness and lap the edges where the silk is joined. Plait in the silk to fit the top wire, and sew it over the top wire, pulling it very tight from the bottom so there will be no wrinkles. Pin the plait in place first and then sew in place. Buttonhole twist is best for sewing on the silk, as it is strong. When the shade has been covered with the silk measure around the top and bottom to find out the amount of velvet ribbon required for trimming. The shade has six stripes of the velvet running from the top of the shade down to points several inches below the bottom. Allow for these stripes when buying the velvet. The velvet ribbon may be any width desired. A piece an inch and a half wide is good. The stripes down the side may be wider if desired. Adjust the velvet ribbon to the shade and sew in place and then put in the lining. To sew in the lining turn in the edge of the silk and sew it inside the shade to the bottom wire with a hemming stitch. Draw the lining to the top, plait it in to fit, turn in the top edge and fasten as at the bottom. The six panels on the shade are decorated with silk flowers or fruit.

USE CARE IN WASHING RUGS

Floor Coverings May Be Washed With Soapsuds and the Colors Renewed.

In one way, of course, all oriental rugs may be classed as washable. They may be safely washed with white soapsuds and water. In fact, they come from their baths the better for them, with renewed colors and a freshened surface, and highly benefited because of the removal of the grime that harts their fabric.

But we do not usually classify oriental rugs among the washable rugs, for their cleaning is difficult and must be undertaken only occasionally.

The usually considered washable rug is that made of rugs. Cotton rug rugs are so easily washed that they are a boon in a children's room or in a bathroom. For now that washing machines are so usual, the washing of such a rug is easier than ever. Just shake it to get the dust out, and then put it in the washing machine. Turn on the current—and the work is done. Dry these rugs carefully in a strong current of air, but not in the sun, if you care for their colors. Put them through the wringer carefully, shake them out to get them as smooth and straight-edged as possible, and then hang them carefully, with the same idea of keeping the edges straight in mind.

When they are dry press them with a warm iron, if they need it. Sometimes they dry so smooth that they do not need ironing. If the rugs are thin and there are very big wrinkles in them, cover these with a damp cloth before pressing.

Remember that a stitch in time is well worth while in rug rugs. Mend any worn spot, either by running course threads back and forth in a loose, darning stitch, or else by running strands of cotton rugs back and forth in the same way.

Variety Easily Made.

When making cookies it is not necessary to have several recipes to obtain variety. One can separate the dough of any good cookie recipe into four parts, making plain sugar cookies of one portion, adding shredded coconut to the other portion, spices to the third portion, with nuts and citron to make them richer, if desired, and cocoa or chocolate to the fourth. This will give four varieties of cookies from the same recipe, and not make so many of any one kind that the family tire of them before they are finished.

Monarch's Gift to Archers.

Henry IV, king of France, made handsome gifts to the gold of archers, among others a gold chain, with a hawk attached, and a beautiful gold scepter, dating from about 1600, richly ornamented with a gold hawk and the arms of the guild emblazoned on it; at important functions this scepter is carried by the king of the archers.

BUY AT HOME

The apparent unwillingness of the large mail-order houses to accept a loss on the immense stores of merchandise carried by them has brought about a tremendous decrease in their sales during the last few months.

Reports show monthly losses in sales running from $5,000,000 to $15,000,000. The decreases amount to more than 50 per cent of the usual values of business. For example: One of the largest mail order houses had total sales in February, 1921, of about $14,000,000 as compared with $28,000,000 in February, 1920. Another had sales in February, 1921 of approximately $5,500,000 as compared with over $11,000,000 during February, 1920. This condition is general.

It appears that the mail-order houses are endeavoring to sell merchandise based upon prices quoted in catalogues printed over a year ago. The prices quoted and being charged are in some instances from 25 to 50 per cent higher than those quoted and charged in community retail stores. The time has come when people should see the advantages of supporting home business enterprises, not only for the interest of the individual, but for the good of the community at large.

The welfare of the community is largely dependent upon the success of its merchants and the prosperity of its population. It is a well known fact that mail-order houses pay no taxes except in cities where they have their headquarters, or own property. They do little or nothing toward assisting numerous movements promulgated from time to time for community betterment; they build no roads; they contribute nothing to schools, libraries, churches or any other activity which make our community worth living in.

English Strolling Players.

Ten strolling players—six women and four men—are traveling the highways and byways of England carrying a theater neatly packed up.
They represent the Arts League of Service, one of the objects of which is to take art in every form into the heart of rustic life. The players travel in easy stages of about ten miles a day by motor lorry and use local halls where possible, but sometimes play in the open air. The lorry's acetylene headlights, they find, make excellent "limes."

"We put up at very varied places," one of the party told a reporter. "One night we are the guests of the local squire and the next, perhaps, we are enjoying the hospitality of a miner's family."

The programs consist of three short plays together with songs and dances. The scheme is beginning to be self-supporting.

NORTHWEST NEWS

St. Paul, June 2—Prospects for a big grain and forage crop in the northwest this year are good, according to reports from banking, marketing and statistical sources.

A heavy crop this year should enable farmers of the northwest to recuperate from heavy deflation during 1920 and the last spring, according to agricultural experts.

Indications are that there will be fair prices for wheat and other grain crops this fall, according to E. G. Quamme, president of the St. Paul Federal land bank. The bank has about resumed normal operation and is doing more than $1,000,000 business monthly, he said. This in itself is an indication of optimism and the return of normalcy it was pointed out. There are only a few spots in the northwest where crops have been retarded by lack of rain, and in most sections, the crops are two weeks ahead of normal advancement for this time of the year.

Resumption of foreign buying on a large scale is anticipated this fall by farmers in general and if this expected trading develops to any proportions, the financial status of agricultural interests will be good, it is said. A good market for crops will enable farmers to move them early and thus realize on their labors. An early return on money invested in seeding, cultivating and harvesting will enable farmers to clear their debts and secure a foothold on next year's business.

Memorial Windows Unveiled

Moorhead, June 2—The memorial windows of Concordia Lutheran college will be unveiled today as part of the commencement exercises. The services will be conducted by the alumni.

Domestics Wanted

Fargo, June 2—With unemployment growing Mrs. Minnie Bowe, manager of the federal employment bureau, is looking for 200 domestics at wages from $5 to $10 a week with room and board.
Experienced farm help has so far been sufficient to meet the demand, Mrs. Bowe declares, and applications for farm work is coming in from Texas, Arkansas, Kansas, New Jersey and Virginia.

Salary Increases Granted

Bismarck, June 2—Increases from $200 to $800 a year were granted in salaries of faculty at the University by the board of administration. A salary of $5000 was voted to Dean E. J. Babcock in recognition of his research with the clay and lignite deposits of the state.

Plant Vines on Indoor Lattice.

In altering old homes rather than in the construction of new ones, lattices and grills seem to appeal to the interior decorators' scheme of things.

The same manner of treatment is given a too expansive bay window, where, instead of curtains, decorative jars holding climbing vines are placed at the sides. The vines will soon make the lattice a thing of beauty.

The use of the growing vines on the lattice indoors is growing in favor, the plainness of the walls of the breakfast room is relieved by the green of the climbing vines.

Foolish Question.

"There goes Lieutenant Podkins. He has traveled thousands of miles under water."

"In a submarine?"
"Of course. Did you think he tied paving stones to his heels to keep him down and held his breath?"—Birmingham Age-Herald.

AMUSEMENTS

"Forbidden Fruit"

Forrest Stanley, who plays the leading man's role in Cecil B. DeMille's Paramount Picture which will be shown at the Lyceum wears Mr. DeMille's expensive overcoat in several scenes of the picture. Thereby hangs a tale.

At the climax of a dramatic scene, Forrest Stanley stages a realistic hand-to-hand fight with Theodore Kosloff, the famous Russian dancer and actor who is also one of the principals of the cast. Among other bits of action in the scene, Kosloff throws a table lamp at Stanley. Incidentally, Stanley appears in the overcoat which is Cecil B. DeMille's prized possession.

In the filming of this episode, Forrest Stanley volunteered to get in the way of the thrown lamp, actually taking the blow and thus adding to the realism of the scene. Cecil B. DeMille vetoed the suggestion in the following terms:

"A good doctor might be able to fix you up after the excitement but I doubt if any tailor in the world would be able to put that coat in shape. I might risk a leading man alone or the coat all by itself, but not the combination. Dodge the lamp!" And he did.

At the New Park Theatre

A classic of the picturesque northland with its snow and forest-clad wilds, its romance and its adventure, its mystery and charm, is the screen version of James Oliver Curwood's delightful story, "Kazan," opened an engagement at the New Park theatre last night.

The spirit of this tale of the great pack-dog "Kazan," who becomes the enemy of all mankind following the murder of his master and who joins a wolf pack and becomes its leader, has been admirably caught. Even the savage Kazan is amenable to kindness, and he never forgets the act of the young woman who befriended him and gave him his freedom. When he comes upon this same young woman and her male companion while heading a hungry wolf pack, he turns on the wolves and fights them off in one of the most thrilling scenes ever screened.

Again Kazan the Killer comes to her rescue when an intruder attacks the helpless girl in a lonely cabin. A third time he fights for her and wreaks a terrible revenge on the slayer of his master, Jim Radisson, of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police.

Mary Pickford

Mary Pickford in her forthcoming production for United Artists, "Suds," has as usual surrounded herself with a cast of unusual talent and spared neither time nor money in securing players exactly suited to the roles. This production will be the feature at the New Park theatre beginning Saturday.
Prominent in her support is Mme. Rose Dione, for a long time one of the leading members of Sarah Bernhardt's company in Paris and who since the outbreak of the war has appeared in French dramas at the French theatre in New York, and more recently came to California to appear in the silent art.

At the Lyceum Theatre

The New Yuccum Tomorrow

The new screen drama, "The Gift Supreme," which will be at the Lyceum tomorrow only, is said to be one of the finest examples of screen melodrama ever presented to the public. It is claimed that every character and set in this picture is authentic to the last degree. Even the extras have been chosen with the greatest of care.

Compass at South Pole.

At the South magnetic pole, which is a long way from the geographical South pole, a compass needle suspended so as to swing in a vertical plane, dips until it reaches a vertical position with the south end downward. An ordinary compass needle suspended so as to swing horizontally only becomes sluggish near the poles, the magnetic force of the earth tending to pull one end of the needle down, instead of making the needle swing.

Limits of Submarine.

In a contribution to the submarine-versus-battleship controversy, Admiral Sir H. Bacon, quoted in the Scientific American, states that because of the constructional conditions attending submarine design, a craft which navigates below water loses a large per cent of her surface fighting efficiency. Ton for ton, the fighting and scouting efficiency of a submarine vessel of whatever size is only about 15 per cent of that of the surface vessel. Sir George Owens Thurston, naval director of Vickers, Limited, gives figures to show that a submarine of 5,450 tons, having a surface speed of 30 knots, could mount an armament of only one 5.5-inch and one 3-inch gun.

Eating and Wasting Less Beef.

The United States Department of Agriculture reports that ten years ago the consumption of beef per head of the population in the United States was 78 pounds. Last year it was less than 50½ pounds. Beef consumption in the American household, it is stated, has undergone a great change during this time, especially in reducing waste.

Miss Theda Gildemeister of Winona Normal to Speak Friday Evening, June 3

AT THE NEW PARK THEATRE

Topic of the Famous Educator Will Be "Society's Debt to the School"

Early Thursday afternoon tickets were exchanged for reserved seats for the commencement exercises of Brainerd high school. These exercises will be held on Friday evening at the New Park theatre and 61 will be graduated.

The commencement day speaker will be Miss Theda Gildemeister, instructor in education at the Winona normal school, a faculty member of that school the past year and recently honored by election to the presidency of the Minnesota Educational association.

She has been able to accept a part of the invitations and has thus visited most of the middle states as well as New York, Pennsylvania and California. She has also spoken in Manitoba, Canada and in Brussels, Belgium.

She was once "absent on leave" for study and then earned her bachelor's degree and a diploma in supervision. She has since then earned credits toward her master's degree at Teachers' college, Columbia university, New York.

When asked to what organizations she belonged Miss Gildemeister named at least a half dozen educational bodies besides the Students' Y. W. C. A., Red Cross and the local chapter of the D. A. R. She has been a member of a number of important committees and commissions, all having to do with the revision of elementary education, better equipment of school buildings and methods of instruction.

DENTAL CLINICS

(Contributed)

"An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure." The wisdom contained in this old saying is as true now as it was in the day of Benjamin Franklin, and it is being demonstrated today in a variety of ways. One of the ways is through a dental clinic, such as the one held recently in four different communities of the county. It is encouraging to the doctor and nurses, who are vitally interested in the public health, to receive the cooperation and interest of the parents, for only through them can the ultimate purpose be achieved.

The expenses for a clinic of this nature, are met through the funds of the County Public Health Association which funds are secured through the sale of little Christmas seals. The seals, selling for a penny each, are collectively able to increase the efficiency of the health work and to make a wider program of activities possible.

Dr. Davidson, the examining dentist, is a specialist in the care and treatment of children's teeth. The community was fortunate to secure such a man for he is not only efficient and thorough but also sincerely interested and untiring. He did not hesitate to go to a home where it was impossible for the child to come to him, and this special effort did not go unrewarded. Immediate treatment was given to the child upon Dr. Davidson's recommendation.

Dr. Davidson was ably assisted in his work in the county by Miss Grimes, the county nurse and Miss Michael, Brainerd city and school nurse. He appreciated the courtesy and kindness extended to him by the local dentists, and rejoiced in the hospitality of the community.

evening to all the children and their parents. Many of the mothers of Deerwood and Cuyuna came with the children to the clinic. This made it possible for the doctor to show the various defects to the mothers concerned and to explain each clearly and convincingly. After the examinations in Deerwood the moving picture was given for the children hoping, in this way, to make more forceful the need for daily care and to visualize the dangers of decayed and abscessed teeth.

The clinic at Crosby was especially well attended, so well, in fact, that it was impossible to examine all the children. Dr. Davidson examined more than are usually handled by one man in the same length of time. Splendid assistance was given by interested women of all four communities. The necessary supplies were exhausted before the day was over so that it seemed best to discontinue the clinic with the hopes that another might be had in the near future.

All the children and parents were invited to the free movie, and Dr. Davidson talked informally to the children in a very interesting manner.
